Needles, Cal., July 23.— Sheriff Cleofes Romero, of San Miguel county, N. M., has been an unwilling visitor in Needles for the past two days, during which time he has become a sadder and a wiser man; first because the weather is hot here, much hotter than in that high class summer resort in New Mexico where the sheriff resides and second because the search for one Edward Rice, wanted in San Miguel county for forgery, has thus far availed the sheriff nothing, although he has searched high and low.

It happened all because the sheriff, soothed by the balmy breezes of the Mojave desert and the gentle rocking of a Pullman car, went to sleep and slept not not wisely, but too well.

The New Mexico officer went out to San Francisco a few days ago, where he succeeded in arresting Rice, who is wanted in Las Vegas for forging railroad pay checks. The forgery was committed in March of 1907 and Rice, after making his escape went to San Francisco and enlisted in the regular army. He was found at the Presidio by Sheriff Romero, who at once put him on the train for Las Vegas.

As a measure of precaution, Rice was handcuffed and put to bed in a Pullman berth on the inside of the berth with the sheriff on the outside. The officer went to sleep after removing his trousers. And there he made a fatal mistake. Instead of placing the trousers upstairs he left them hanging in the berth close to Rice's hand. Rice did not go to sleep. He waited until the officer was slumbering peacefully then he deftly removed the officer's keys, unlocked the handcuffs, possessed himself of $2 in cash which was in the sheriff's trousers pockets and, climbing over the sleeping officer. He left the car at Needles, after adding insult to injury, by taking the sheriff's grip. Romero discovered that his prisoner was missing almost as soon as he was gone. He left the train here and took up the search. Rice was still wearing the army uniform, and it was thought at first that he would be caught without trouble but thus far he has succeeded in evading arrest.

Romero is one of the most widely known peace officers in the southwest and has a record for always landing his man. This time, however, proved the fatal exception.—Las Vegas Optic.

NEW MEXICO COLLEGE
OF AGRICULTURE
AND MECHANIC ARTS
"To promote Liberal and Practical Education."
(INCORPORATED 1902)
HADDLEY HALL
Administration Building
While this is not a school for farmers only, its work in Agriculture is especially strong. The department occupies a new building and has well equipped laboratories, fine stock and an experimental farm of two hundred acres under irrigation. Nine professors and instructors devote their entire time to Agriculture, Horticulture, Irrigation, and Soils.
The College Course in Agriculture covers four years and prepares for expert work in farm management, in the government service.
The Industrial Course in Agriculture has four years of high school grade which includes work in Field Crops, Vegetable Gardening, Fruit Growing, Stock Raising, Stock Plant and Animal Raising, Plant Diseases, Soil Fertility, etc., as well as some high school subjects.
The college also offers courses in Engineering, Practical Mechanics, Household Economics, etc., and is open to all students. Boys and girls who do not expect to take a full college course should attend the Industrial Course.
Good equipped in all departments. Exports buildings. Free library in the library. Faculty of thirty-eight. Constantly expanding. Enrollments low. Unique opportunities for self-support.

Duties of Oldtime Carvers.
At the formal banquet of the sixteenth century the man who carved the meat was bound with the red tape of precedent. When carving for distinguished guests he had to remember that certain parts of the birds or meat must be set aside. In carving for his lord and lady he was expected to exercise great discretion in the size of the pieces he cut around. "For bodies will be soon angry and their thoughts soon changed, and some lords are soon pleased and some not, as they are of complexion." He was expected to have the rules both of the kitchen and the parage at his hand's end. A pique, for instance, must be dined up whole for a lord, and in slices for commoner folk. The rank of his dinners, too, determined whether a pie was to be served up whole, sliced, sliced or with gold leaf, or whether new bread or bread three days old should be eaten.

Heights to Be Attained.
A crochery old farmer of Massachusetts had trouble with his neighbor and as a result sought his counsel—ex-Congressman Samuel L. Powers, says Lippincott's.
"I want you to write him a letter and tell him this here foolishness he's got to stop," he declared firmly. "I know what I want to say, but I can't get the larnin' to put it just right."
"What do you want to say?" Mr.
Powers asked.
"Well, begin by tellin' him that he's the derndest, lyin'est, thiev'in'est, low-downest skunk on s'n—then then work up."

JOHN HAY'S SENSE OF HUMOR Statesman Was Exceptionally Gifted in This Respect, According to Biographer.
Few of our public men have had a more delicate or delicious humor, coupled in an unusual way with a keen and cutting wit. We are fortunate in the preservation of so many of his addresses. Speaking of his frequent opportunities for talking in England, Mr. Hay wrote to a friend:
"You never saw a people so willing and eager to be bored as these blessed John Bulls. If I were of the Neocene type, which takes delight in human anguish, I could make a speech every night of your round. But I refrain—being merciful and lazy."
Of a candidate for the presidency, he said: "There seems no limit to his eager credulity. . . . He seems able to believe anything—all he asks is that it shall be incredible." The man's party he characterizes as a "fortuitous concourse of unrelated prejudices."
Describing a collection of sacred relics gathered by Philip II., he playfully writes: "With the exception, perhaps of Cuvier, Philip could see more in a bone than any man who ever lived. In his long life of ominous enthusiasm he collected 7,121 genuine relics—whole skeletons, odd shins, teeth, toe-nails and skulls of martyrs —sometimes by a miracle of special grace, getting duplicate skeletons of the same saint."—"Castilian Days," azine.

Rev. W. C. Grant, Baptist Ministry for the Portales association and Rev. S. M. Edwards, Colporteur for the association, commenced a revival meeting here last Saturday and have held services here all the week.

There has been a gratifying interest shown and several professions of religion. Two members of the Locust Grove Church were baptized in Lake Sumner on Wednesday.
It is thought that a Baptist church will be organized here.

Our enterprising merchants have made an agreement that they will close the stores at seven o'clock p. m. except Saturday evenings. This will give the clerk some recreation that they have never not been getting and is especially necessary these short days during the warm weather.

Parties coming into Fort Sumner to buy goods on Sunday should not feel that their merchants if they have to wait until Monday morning.

The law is very strict against keeping open business houses on Sunday.

F. L. Holliday, who has had charge of the automobile running on the Roswell-Torrance line, and who has had many years experience in building and running launches on the lakes in Wisconsin, has located in Fort Sumner and taken a position as master mechanic for the Development Company.
He will have charge of the erection and operation of the company's big heralding pumping plant and the town water works plant.

Mr. Holliday is also planning to put some pleasure boats on Lake Sumner, and a passenger and express packet boat to run down the canal about four miles. This method of transportation, while unique in the arid west, is very convenient and profitable on the canal of Egypt and India.

Mr. Holliday has inspected the canal and says its navigation for this purpose with a boat to carry a dozen passengers is practicable. "The bridge will need to be raised to make headroom for the passenger, and people to concentrate with the lake to allow boats to pass through. The boat may be run up three miles to the head gate and down four miles to the center of irrigation. A speed of about six to eight miles per hour is permissible, and proves a benefit rather than an injury to the canal, by stirring of the silt and making the canal deeper. This project will be a great convenience to the gardener in bringing his truck to market without leaving his garden himself.

Mr. Holliday understands an automobile as thoroughly as a Fort Sumner boy understands a burro, and if any of our capitalists are seriously considering the difficulties of learning to drive one they may now feel assured of a safe counselor on this subject.

ing.

foot coal bin, and has just bought a large amount of alfalfa hay from F.
A. Manzanarez and will put the coal, B. L. Brooks has just completed his large store room which is one of the best in town. Mr. Brooks contemplates cutting the upstairs floor into bedrooms and furnishing them for rent; most likely the lower store room will be used as a dining hall and kitchen, thus making it one of the best hotel buildings in town.

Mr. C. E. Ackerman, in charge of construction work for the Roswell-Torrance Telephone Company, arrived Monday and immediately began work on the new building that is to house the telephone exchange. It will be a frame building, 24 x 32 feet of neat design and the work is well underway.

The location, at the corner of 5th St. and Sumner Ave., is excellent from the Telephone Company's point of view, for they can run their line straight up the alley to the depot and also have access to an alley running toward the lake. The switch board to be installed will have a capacity of 200 telephone and the valley will be furnished service as well as the city—for this latter purpose a line will be run directly into the valley from the main line two miles east of town. It will take about three weeks to complete the building and another three weeks will be sufficient to install the service.

This is but another evidence of Fort Sumner's prosperity and another instance of the faith shown by outside capitalists. Dr. C. E. Lukens, president of the company, is in a position to compare Fort Sumner with other young communities in the Territory and his satisfying faith in our future serves to confirm for the hundredth time what we all know—that Fort Sumner is the best town in Eastern New Mexico, in its infancy.

A. B. Harris finished loading his last car of wood on Friday. This practically cleans up the recent wood clip in the Fort Sumner district, but there is still a small amount being held here.

SLEEP FOR THE SLEEPLESS.
How a French Specialist Goes to Work to Woo Slumber for His Wide-Awake Patients.

A French specialist has come to the rescue of persons afflicted with insomnia. His method is somewhat vaguely described as "lulling the wideawakes to unconsciousness much as babies are put to slumber."

"It is a perfect palace of peace that he has opened in lovely Tormaline," says the Lady's Pictorial. "Here is never a disturbing sound. The silence is broken only by the absolutely monotonous and soothing tick, tick, tick of solid grandfather clocks, and the scarcely perceptible drip of unseen fountains."

"Everything is seen through a cere-lean haze, everybody moves in listless slippers, the air is fresh but full of faint perfume. Before the eyes of very refractory patients slowly revolve colored balls, not the smallest rose leaf being allowed to crumple in any bed, each being so designed that there is no possibility of the body growing weary. Here, in fact, the woe of sleep has been made a positive science, and it is said no one can keep awake here, however hard he may try."

Accounting for It.
Outgoing heads of the government departments sometimes make a few "personal" promotions upon the eve of their departure, and a clerk in the department of agriculture, believing that Secretary Wilson would go this way of the rest of the Roosevelt cabinet, ventured to approach him with a little plea for special recognition.

"I have been in the department since the time you were first made secretary, sir," the clerk began.

"I know it—I know it," the secretary said, waving him away. "Every one knows I am a very patient and considerate man."—Harper's Weekly.
